Vandringshavn (Wanderer's harbour) is a lovely, maritime, open-air recreation area, located in an idyllic bay at southern Eigerøy. You can reach the area by foot or boat (shallow waters, only suitable for small boats). A covered roof offers a dry space to sit and rest.

In Vandringshavn, a combination of agriculture and fishing has provided sustenance. The area now consists of grasslands, patches of forest, and piles of stones cleared from agricultural land. You will find various marked paths to follow in the area.

The recreation area is owned by Eigersund municipality and is open to all. There are no restrictions for using the area for regular hikes. Large groups and events must be registered at Eigersund municipality beforehand. The big boathouse is rentable – the tenant has exclusive rights for using it, but not for using the outdoor area.

Hikes and coastal fishing
